HELPS IN COOKING RICE

Iranian rice is very generally considered the best rice in the world, and the secrets surrounding the proper cooking of it are many and varied. However, a few basic facts will be helpful :

Rice varies in quality, but for chillo or pillo, rice should be the long unbroken white grains.

To have your chillo (the plain white rice) and pillo (the white rice in which meat, fruits, and/or vegetables have been mixed and cooked) at their best, the rice should be cleaned, washed, and put to soak in at least 3" of strong salt water to cover, the day before you intend to cook it.

Knowing just when the rice cooking in the boiling water has reached the exact stage of tenderness, neither too much nor too little, is something that comes with practice. It is tested between the thumb and finger to see that the center is still firm, but as a whole the grain is beginning to soften.

If after draining and rinsing it, you find that in the first cooking it was not sufficiently cooked, you can rectify this by sprinkling the rice with an extra cup of water after the initial oil and water used in the steeping process has been absorbed, and before the fire is turned low for the last cooking.

If you find your rice overcooked in the first cooking, then after you have steeped it and have it on the fire, remove the covered lid every 5 min. to let the steam escape, until it has become hot. Then the lid should be put on and the fire turned low.

The rice should be cooked in a large kettle with a lid that will fit closely. For the second cooking, the steeping, the lid should have a cloth covering on the underside to absorb the moisture, so that the rice is thoroughly cooked, light, and fluffy, not damp and soggy.

Butter is always a welcome addition on a hot mound of rice, if you find the rice too dry.

CHILLO - WHITE RICE

Serves 4

2 lbs. of long grain rice

1/3 cup of salt

2 qts. of cold water

1 large kettle of boiling water

1/2 cup cooking oil or butter

1/2 cup water, or yoghurt and water

1 ts. sugar if desired

The day before, clean and wash the rice. Then put to soak in 2 qts. of water with 5 handfuls of salt.

Empty the drained rice into a kettle with at least 4 qts. of boiling water. Cook until the rice feels, when tested between thumb and finger, that it is beginning to soften, but the core is still firm. With Persian rice this will require about 20 min. American rice will take 4-6 min. If overcooked in this stage, the rice becomes sticky and disintegrates. Remove from fire, drain, and rinse with slightly warm water. Into a large kettle with tight lid put the oil. Bring to boil and add water (and yoghurt and sugar, if desired). Bring this to boil and pour off this liquid for later use. Now shake the rice into the kettle lightly so that it is not packed down. When all the rice is in, put on lid and set on fire until very hot. Now pour the oil and water liquid over the rice. Cover underside of lid with 2 or 3 thicknesses of cloth to absorb the steam. Put the lid on the kettle tightly. A deep Dutch-oven would be excellent for this. Put this in the oven at about 350° for 1-1 1/2 hours. Do not remove lid until you are ready to serve. The crust formed on the bottom of the kettle is a choice part and should be laid over the mound of served rice.

KABOBS

4 generous servings

2 lbs. lamb - Choice meat along the backbone.

$\frac{1}{4}$ lb. fat - Use fat from tail or kidneys.

Strip away all tissue and fat so that only meat is left. Cut in 1" x 2" pieces. Let stand overnight in chopped onion, or for an hour or so sprinkled with about $\frac{1}{2}$ ts. meat tenderizer.

Put the meat on the spit, 2 pieces of meat for every 1 of fat.

For every 2 spits of kabob, make 1 spit of small tomatoes. Allow 1 spit of kabobs per person.

Have bed of charcoal red hot, but not blazing, and kept so by fanning. Cook your Kabobs across the open fire. Don't forget to turn them.

Serve with : radishes, onions, mint, Persian goat cheese, if available, and

"Sanggak". (Persian bread cooked on little stones.)

Ali's Kabobs
marinate ^{leg of} pieces of lamb (or beef) in ^{salt + pepper} yogurt and chopped onion for several hours. Remove from marinade and cook as for kabobs.

KUBIEDEH KABOB (Ground Meat)

2 lb. choice ground lamb - some fat

1 cup ground onions

salt and pepper to taste.

1 egg and $\frac{1}{4}$ ts. soda (These help to hold meat together but are eliminated by some cooks for fear of toughening.)

Work all of these ingredients together very thoroughly with hands until completely mixed. Shape around spits that are about 1 in. width. Refrigerate until ready to cook.

Make bed of charcoal in brazier, across which spits may be laid while cooking the meat. The coals should be red hot, but not flaming, and will require fanning as meat cooks. The meat should rest about 4" above the coals. Cook to the desired degree of doneness.

Serve with plain white rice, a large lump of butter, ground sumac, fresh onion, and sour pickle. Raw egg yolk may be served to mix with the individual mound of white rice. This is done at the table to the individual's taste.

KABOB-EH BARG (The leaf kabob)

These kabobs are made of the best meat possible, the fillet of lamb. The fillet is stripped out of the back bone and every bit of tissue and fat is carefully cleaned off. The small roll of meat is then laid out on a board and, holding it flat, the meat is cut into carefully from the side, but it is not cut through. It is then opened out and flattened and cut directly crossways to the grain into 2" lengths. The spit is then run through the meat from the side and dipped in finely chopped onion. It can be left in the refrigerator or cooked immediately over a bed of glowing coals. Serve at once with chillo.

If individual servings are made ready, first put a little rice on a warm plate, then the meat from one spit and a very generous piece of butter. Now cover the then the meat from one spit and a very generous piece of butter. Now cover the meat and butter with a cone-shaped mound of rice. Ground sumac is excellent served with this. Also raw egg-yolk, pickles, and raw onions. Dugh (yoghurt and water) should also accompany this dish.

Wash and cut about 2 lbs. lamb into 2" pieces. Cook with 2 cups water and 2 TS. oil or crisco until water is used up so that meat may brown in the grease.

Add about 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ lbs. sliced tomatoes. Cook out the juice from the tomato and brown the tomatoes, as above.

Now add 4 cups of boiling water, $\frac{1}{4}$ to 1 ts. salt, $\frac{1}{2}$ ts. cinnamon, and 1 ts. turmeric. Cook very slowly.

Fry 5-6 small or 1 large peeled eggplant cut in strips. Then put it into the meat mixture and let simmer for an hour or so.

Fry about 3 big chopped onions until well browned, and add to the meat.

Cook everything slowly until all is tender and water is quite reduced and of good consistency to serve on the rice.

Beef may be used, but it will require more time to cook.

To be used over chillo.

2 lbs. lamb

4-5 sprigs mint

$\frac{1}{2}$ lb. spinach

2 $\frac{1}{2}$ lb. of parsley, coriander and sawzoo

2 TS. fat or oil

1 additional cup fat

1 cup red beans or black-eyed peas.

4 large onions cut in rings, fried crisp.

salt and pepper to taste

1 ts. turmeric

$\frac{1}{2}$ ts. cinnamon

Wash meat and cut in small pieces. Cook with 2 cups of water and 2 TS. butter until water is absorbed. Brown meat well in fat.

To this add the well washed and very finely chopped greens and the additional fat. Cook until nicely browned. Now add the previously cooked beans or peas. To this add enough water to make a good soup, fairly thick. Add seasoning and $\frac{1}{2}$ ts. saffron.

The rings of onions, well fried but not cut up are now to be added to the meat mixture and cooked very slowly for at least $\frac{1}{2}$ hour. About $\frac{1}{4}$ hour before serving, add 8 broken dried Shiraz limes, or lemon juice or concentrate, or citric acid to taste.

KHORESH-EH QAIMEH

2 lbs. of lamb—wash and cut into $\frac{1}{2}$ " squares. Put into kettle with 2 cups water 2 TS. oil and salt to taste. Cook until water boils away and meat browns well.

Add 3 large chopped onions, and brown with meat.

Add $\frac{1}{2}$ cup yellow split peas and $1\frac{1}{2}$ lb. peeled tomatoes cut in small pieces to the meat and onion and cook until tomato juice is absorbed and tomato some-what brown. Add enough boiling water to make a good soup-like consistency.

Add salt, $\frac{1}{4}$ ts. pepper, and $\frac{1}{2}$ ts. turmeric. Cook down well.

Cut 5 potatoes into shoe-string size and fry. Also cut 3 large onions into rings and fry, but keep separate from the potatoes. Add the onions and $\frac{3}{4}$ of the french-fried potatoes to the meat combination.

Simmer gently for $\frac{1}{2}$ hour. Now add 1 ts. cinnamon, $\frac{1}{2}$ ts. saffron water and 1 cup boiling water. To give a nice flavor of tartness, add 10 crushed dried limes, or a bit of lemon juice to taste, during the last cooking.

Garnish the khoresh with the remaining fried potatoes.

Said to be unique in worlds cuisine

Serves 6-8

1 duck (small)

1 $\frac{1}{2}$ lb. walnuts - grind 3 times in fine meatgrinder

1 onion, or bunch of young onions

1/3 - 1 cup pomegranate concentrate (Rob-eh Anar)

Salt. 1 ts. to taste

$\frac{1}{2}$ ts. cinnamon

$\frac{1}{2}$ ts. turmeric

a little pepper

Cook the duck in salted water until half done. Add ground nuts and small amounts of cold water as nuts and duck cook together.

Add pomegranate concentrate, pepper, turmeric, and cinnamon; and cook slowly until good consistency to serve on rice. Add cold water as needed.

If this khoresh is not dark, a piece of iron heated red hot and held in the khoresh for a few seconds, at the last, will produce the proper dark color.

The sweetness or sourness is determined by the kind and quantity of pomegranate concentrate used

Use about 2 lbs. rice for making the chillo.

DOLMEHS (Eggplant - Tomatoes - Sweetpeppers)

Serves 6

4 each of tomatoes, peppers, and eggplants (The small slender kind).

Save the tops of each to be used as a lid. Hollow out the center of each and discard the pepper and eggplant seeds. Retain the tomato juice and seeds.

Clean, wash, and chop together very fine about 2 lbs. parsley, dill, young onions, coriander, and tarreh in equal amounts.

2 large grated onions — add to greens

$\frac{1}{2}$ cup rice — clean and add to greens

2 lbs. lamb — ground once

2 ts. cinnamon

$\frac{1}{2}$ ts. pepper

salt to taste — about 2 ts.

2 TS. oil

Mix all together very thoroughly, using hands. Fill the eggplants which should be browned first, the peppers, and the tomatoes, which should be on top in the kettle. Cover with 2 cups warm water and a little oil. Prunes and/or tomato juice with this improves the flavor. Cover and cook gently for about 2 hours.

AWSH-EH MAWST (Thick yoghurt soup)

2 cups rice

1 lb. greens (spinach or beet tops, parsley, little mint, coriander and sawzoo)

1 cup yellow split peas and black-eyed beans

4-6 cups water

First cook beans and peas until tender. Then add rice, salt, and finely chopped greens. When this is half cooked, add tiny meat balls made from 1 lb. of ground meat, 1 spoon of flour, salt and pepper, cinnamon, turmeric, and 1 egg, mixed well together.

When nearly done, add a very little cinnamon and salt and pepper to taste. Water has been used in sufficient quantity to cook the rice, greens, and other ingredients. This is now somewhat like a soup.

Slice 3 or 4 onions and fry separately. Add $\frac{3}{4}$ of the onions to the soup and set the rest aside.

When ready to serve, have 4 cups yoghurt well beaten. Add slowly to soup, stirring well. Serve topped with crisp fried onions and fried mint.

The day before, clean and wash about 2 lbs. of rice and put to soak with a handful of salt and water 4" over the rice.

Clean and wash 1 lb. of dill. Then cut fine like rice. Set aside. Shell 2 lbs. of broad beans. Then take off second covering or shell. Cut this bean in two.

Use 1-2 lbs. lamb. After cooking well in salted water until water is evaporated, brown the meat in its own fat.

Have a large kettle of boiling water, drain soaked rice, and cook in boiling water until partially tender. If the beans are young and very tender, they should be added with the dill just at this time, as the rice is taken from the fire. (However, if it is late in the season, the beans are a bit tough and they should be added with the rice when it is first put into the boiling water). Drain rice, dill, and broad beans, and rinse with warm water.

Put 4 TS. oil in the kettle. Heat. Add 1 cup water to the hot oil. Bring to boil and pour off for further use. Line the bottom of kettle with thinly sliced potatoes. Put into kettle half of the rice, lightly sprinkled. Then add the pieces of lamb. Cover with remaining rice. Put on fire and cover closely. When kettle is very hot, turn the fire low and let cook very gently for about an hour. Do not open the lid during the last cooking.

ALBAWLÜ PILLO (Black Cherries)

Serves 6

The day before, clean and wash 4 cups of rice and put to soak with a handful of salt and water at least 3" above rice.

Wash and seed 3 cups black cherries. Bring to good boil with $\frac{1}{4}$ cup water and 2 cups sugar. Set this aside.

A large piece of lamb first cooked in water and then browned, may be used in one piece in center or cut in small pieces.

Now drain the rice and put in large kettle of rapidly boiling water. Cook until test shows rice is slightly tender but not done. Remove from fire, drain and rinse with warm water. Into the large kettle 2 TS. butter and 1 TS. water. When then this is boiling, pour it off and retain. Now add a little yoghurt to coat the bottom of the kettle.

Now shake in lightly a layer of rice, one of cherries juice, and one of meat; continue all are used. Put this on the fire until kettle is hot again. Then pour the melted butter and water over the rice. Cover the lid to absorb the moisture. Put it on tight. Turn the fire down and cook for at least 1 hour. Do not open until ready to serve.

ISTAMBOULI PILLO

Serves 6

Clean and wash 4 cups rice and set to soak overnight in 7 cups water and 1 TS. salt.

Wash and cut about 2 lbs. meat into 2" pieces. Put to cook with 2 cups water and 1 ts. salt and 2 TS. Crisco or butter. Cook until water is evaporated. Then brown well with one large chopped onion.

Add $1\frac{1}{2}$ lbs. tomatoes peeled and sliced. Cook until liquid of tomatoes has evaporated.

Now add the rice and the water in which it has soaked and $\frac{1}{2}$ ts. saffron water for flavor.

Cook this carefully until rice is slightly tender and water absorbed. Now cover underside of tight lid with a clean cloth to absorb the moisture.

Add 2 more TS. of Crisco dotted over rice and cover tightly for the last cooking of about $1\frac{1}{2}$ hours, or until the side of the kettle sizzles when tested. It is now ready to serve.

SABZEE PILLO (Greens)

The day before, clean and wash about 2 lbs. of rice and put to soak with a large handful of salt and water at least 3" above rice.

Wash clean and chop fine 1 lb. of greens, including parsley, tarreh, fenugreek.

Cook rice for chillo. Ten minutes before it is ready to drain, add the greens.

Proceed as with plain rice. Drain, rinse, and steep the rice. If meat is used, it must be cooked and browned separately and put into the center of the rice, then covered over with rice. Proceed. as with plain rice.

If fish is to be used, meat is not necessary.

Fish : Smoked fish must be soaked for 2 hours. Skin and cut into frying-size pieces. Dry well and fry in hot fat until well browned. Serve around mound of rice.

Fresh fish may be used if one prefers. It too must be fried.

ADASS PILLO (Lental Pillo)

2 lb. rice — soak as per instructions for making chillo.

2 lb. lamb, preferably breast. Wash and cook in water until tender. Add water as needed so that the meat does not burn. When tender, remove from juice, cool, bone, and cut in small pieces.

Wash 1 lb. of lentils and put to cook in the meat juice. Add water as needed and cook until tender and water is all absorbed.

Now brown in a little oil, one box of seedless raisins.

Cook rice as for chillo. Drain and rinse.

In your kettle put $\frac{1}{2}$ cup oil. Bring to boil and add $\frac{1}{2}$ cup water and a TS. of sugar. When this boils, pour off for later use. Sprinkle a layer of rice over the bottom of the kettle, now a layer of meat, then raisins, lentils, and a sprinkling of sugar. Again add the rice and continue until all the ingredients are in, using 1 cup of sugar. Cover and put on the fire until the kettle becomes hot. Open and pour around over the rice the oil and water and sugar prepared. Put a tight lid on the kettle and set in the oven for at least one hour, with a temperature of about 350°.

This is nice served with a green salad and a light dessert.

SHEEREN PILLO (Sweet Pillo)

This is probably the best liked of all Persian pillo.

The day before, clean and wash about 2 lbs. of rice and put to soak with a handful of salt and water 3" over the rice.

Dress, season and brown well one large chicken, or 3 lbs. of lamb. Cook gently until well done, adding a little water at a time during the process so that as little juice as possible remains in the kettle. When cooked, bone the chicken or cut the meat into serving-size pieces. Set aside.

Into this same kettle containing what is left of the meat juices, put 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ cups of water, 1 cup blanched and shredded almonds, $\frac{1}{3}$ cup skinned and shredded pistachio nuts, $\frac{2}{3}$ cup orange peel (use the outside of the orange or dry peel, which has been cooked in a quantity of salt water until tender, then soaked in 3 changes of water to bring out the bitterness, and drained), 1 cup butter, 2 cups sugar, and a pinch of saffron.

Cook these ingredients together gently until it becomes like a marmalade and the water is absorbed. Set aside.

Cook your rice as for plain chillo. When it is ready to be steeped, put your meat in layers throughout the pillo.

When the rice is ready for serving, heat your platter and your nut-orange mixture. then cover the layers of meat and rice with a thin layer of the fruit and nut mixture, until all is used, being sure to top the mound of rice with the marmalade-nut combination. Pieces of the tah-deeg (bottom of the pot), or the crust, could be used as the garnish around the bottom of the mound of pillo, most effectively.

Some cook like to double the quantity of orange peel by using an equal amount of raw carrots, which makes a very acceptable addition. It is cooked in the marmalade with the other ingredients.

Much too sweet - try less sugar.

*for 6 people:
2 $\frac{1}{2}$ 3c. rice
4-5 chicken breasts*

This image shows a single sheet of white or light-colored paper with horizontal blue or grey ruling lines. The paper appears aged or used, as there are several prominent brown stains, likely from liquid spills, scattered across its surface. The largest stain is located near the center-left, while others are smaller and more isolated. The lighting is even, highlighting the texture of the paper and the distinctness of the lines and stains.

This image shows a single sheet of white, lined notebook paper. The paper has horizontal blue or grey ruling lines spaced evenly apart. There are approximately 20 lines visible across the page. The paper appears slightly aged or off-white. There are some faint, irregular brownish stains or smudges scattered across the surface, particularly one near the center and another towards the bottom right. The edges of the paper are slightly irregular, suggesting it might be from a bound notebook.
